Why Men join Freemasonry

Well, that will require a little tweak in our thinking. We are going to have to stop thinking of Freemasonry as a boys club and start thinking of it as a school for men.

Men come to Freemasonry for individual reasons but we're finding, and I don't believe this to be anything new, that most men come to Freemasonry for one or more of the following reasons:

- They have a friend or family member in the fraternity and they want to share it.
- They have heard and read of the secrets of the Freemasons and they want in on it.
- Or, they have realized that something is missing from their life and they think Freemasonry will help them find it, whatever it is.

Most men who are actively searching for that missing something don't really know what it is. It just a vague sense that there must be more. Whatever the reasons a man comes to Masonry our purpose is the same. We take good men and make them better.

Consider that simple sentence. We take good men and make them better.

It's not: We take good men and enable them to become better.
It's not: We take good men and encourage them to become better,
...ask them to become better.
...hope they will become better.

It's: We take good men and MAKE them better.

From the Chaplain

Mark 9:2-9

And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themselves; and he was transfigured before them. And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them. And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses, and they were talking with Jesus.

And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias. For he wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid.

And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him.

And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves. And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead.
